FOREWORD

This Index is the second of its kind to be compiled for the City of Philadelphia. Its predecessor was prepared and published in 1937 under the auspices of the Joint Committee On Research Of The Community Council Of Philadelphia And The Pennsylvania School Of Social Work, with a grant in aid from the Federal Works Progress Administration. The many changes and additions in streets that have occurred since that time are, of course, the reason for the present revision. Since the Joint Committee is no longer functioning, its former Chairman, Mr. Earl G. Harrison has granted permission to the Philadelphia Area Census Committee to revise and publish the Index as a Second Edition.

This Second Edition has been prepared and published under joint sponsorship of the Philadelphia Area Census Committee, the Philadelphia City Planning Commission, and the Health And Welfare Council, Inc. The Census Committee assumed full responsibility for the planning and supervision of the project; the City Planning Commission provided extensive staff assistance and valuable reference material; and the Health And Welfare Council is responsible for the printing and distribution of the Index. Harlin G. Loomer, Chairman of the Census Committee and also Senior Planning Analyst for the City Planning Commission was in direct charge of the project. Much of the work of rechecking the data and preparing them for reproduction was done by Elaine M. Samans, Alma B. Kirstein, Paula G. Strobach, Grace D. Collings and Rudolph G. Bretz - all of the City Planning Commission staff. Some assistance also was received from members of the Council of Volunteers of the Health And Welfare Council who likewise compiled similar data for portions of Delaware, Montgomery and Camden Counties.

In preparing this revision of the Index, all data have been checked directly with current (1950-51) editions of the official Philadelphia Street And Land Use Maps, and in many instances with the Sanborn Insurance Maps of Philadelphia and information from numerous other sources, in an effort to assure their accuracy and completeness - at least to the time of the taking of the 1950 Census of Population and Housing. Besides street changes and additions, the revision involved adjustments to changes which have been made in the boundaries of several census tracts and the adding of notations for the allocation of census tracts within the four new wards which have been created since the census tract system was adopted (in 1928).

HOW TO USE THE TRACT INDEX

The city of Philadelphia is divided into 404 geographical units known as "census tracts." The U.S. Bureau of the Census publishes its most detailed tabulations on the characteristics of population and housing from each decennial census (since 1930) on the basis of these census tracts, and has also compiled some special tabulations of data from the Census of Business for these same units of area.

Because this Census information is so basic to many types of local social and economic research, it is often very advantageous to tabulate data from other sources by these same small area units so that they may readily be compared or correlated with the Census data. The Census Tract Index To Philadelphia Streets And House Numbers is designed to facilitate such tabulations.

The Index may be used in much the same manner as a telephone directory, to locate and classify by census tracts any data for which the street addresses are known. The numbered streets are listed first in ascending order and are followed by the named streets in alphabetical order. The house numbers on each street are broken down into groups to show which addresses fall within each of the census tracts through which that street passes - the appropriate census tract number appearing opposite and at the right of each group of house numbers. In instances where a street is the boundary line between two different census tracts the letters e and o have been inserted to show that the even-numbered addresses fall in one census tract and the odd-numbered addresses in another.

Example: Charles Street

4900-5099	23 G	(All addresses are in Tract 23 G)
e 5100-5198	23 G	(Only even numbers are in Tract 23 G)
o 5101-5199	23 H	(Only odd numbers are in Tract 23 H)

The Index may also be used to classify data by wards, since the first portion of the census tract number generally indicates the number of the ward in which it is located (Example: Tract 7-B is in the Seventh Ward, and Tract 22-J is in the Twenty Second Ward). A few exceptions to this rule occur where new wards have been created since the tract numbering system was first established in 1928. In such instances the tract numbers have not been changed but the new ward number has been indicated by an additional code number in parentheses inserted just ahead of the tract number (Example: Tract 42-P is still in the Forty Second Ward, but Tract (49) 42-Y is now in the Forty Ninth Ward.) In still fewer instances the new ward boundaries transect census tracts so that parts of the same census tract may fall in different wards. Such instances are also noted in the Index either by a further break-down of street number groupings within the same tract (where the ward line crosses that street), or by separating even (e) and odd (o) numbers (where the ward line follows that street).

The Index is not designed to show the first and last numbers of existing buildings in each block, but shows the first and last numbers of the hundred series for that block (0-99) (there seldom are 99 properties in one block). Exceptions to this rule occur where diagonal streets, which are the boundaries of census tracts or wards, divide a block that is numbered in a hundred series. In such instances the actual house numbers at the intersection are used as the lower and upper group limits.

In spite of every effort to make this Index complete and accurate, it is quite possible that some omissions or errors have occurred. If such faults are discovered, it will be appreciated if they are called to the attention of the Chairman of the Philadelphia Area Census Committee.

PHILADELPHIA CENSUS TRACTS
PHILADELPHIA CITY PLANNING COMMISSION

LEGEND

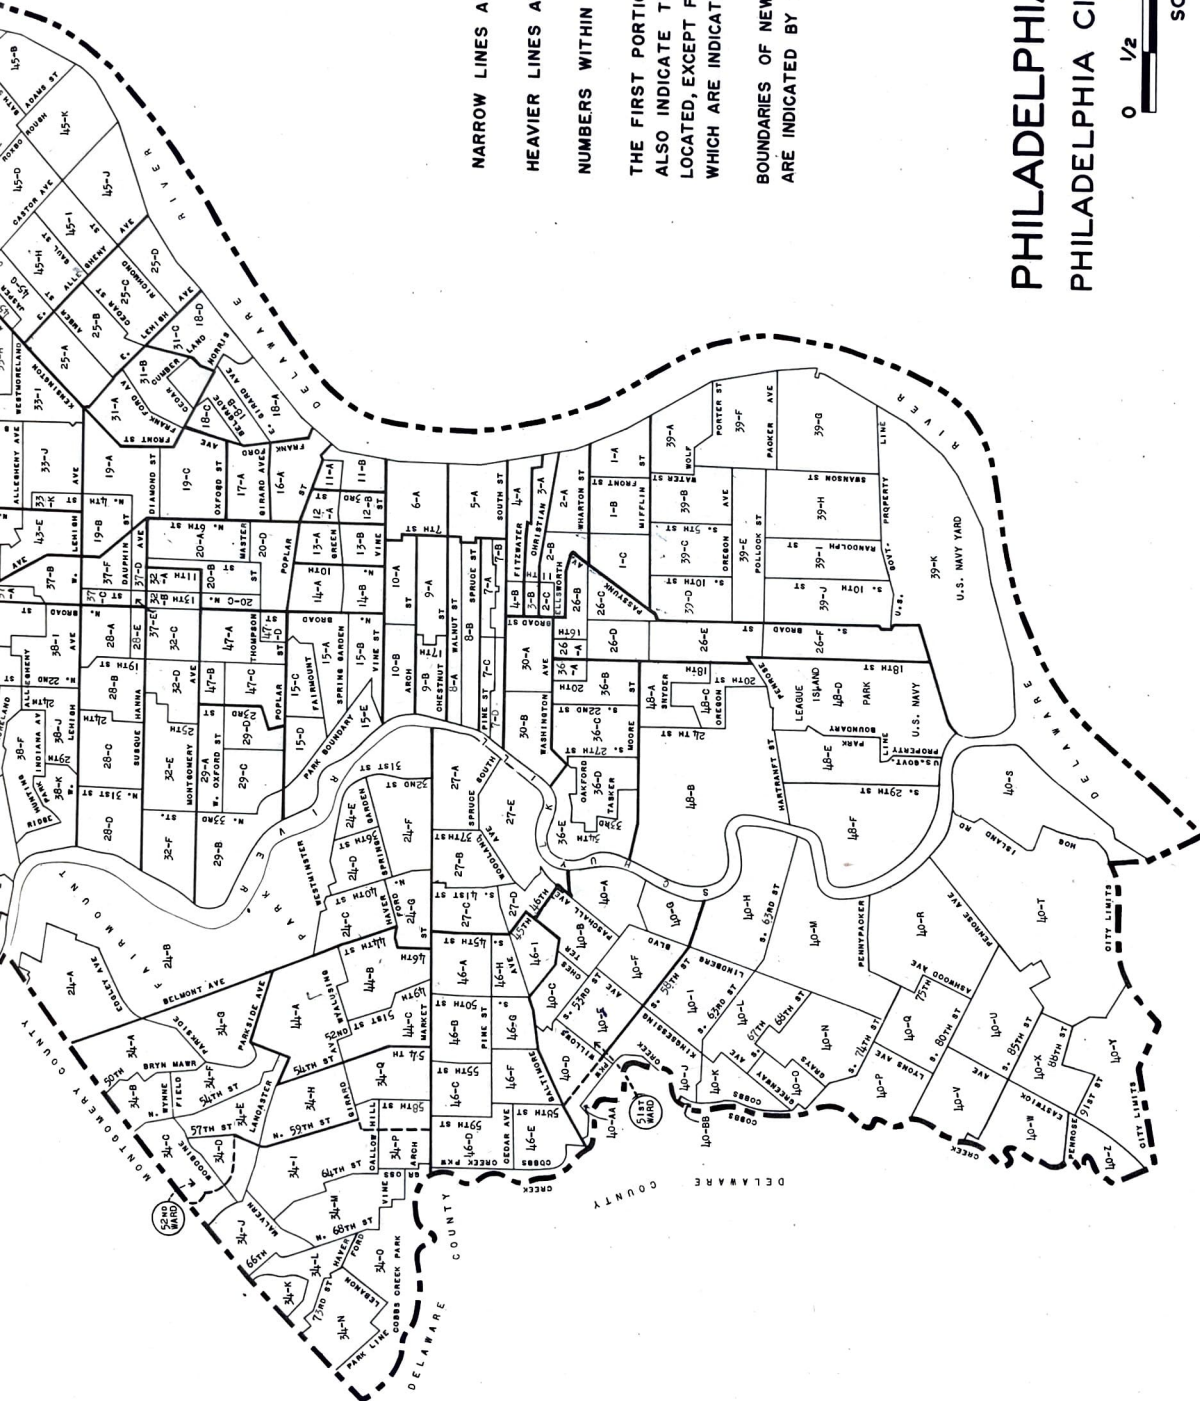

NARROW LINES ARE CENSUS TRACT BOUNDARIES.

HEAVIER LINES ARE WARD BOUNDARIES,

NUMBERS WITHIN TRACTS ARE OFFICIAL TRACT NUMBERS.

THE FIRST PORTION OF THESE NUMBERS (1-, 14-, 48-, ETC) ALSO INDICATE THE WARD IN WHICH THE TRACT IS LOCATED, EXCEPT FOR THE 49th, 50th, 51st AND 52nd WARDS WHICH ARE INDICATED BY ENCIRCLED NUMBERS AND ARROWS.

BOUNDARIES OF NEW WARDS WHICH TRANSECT CENSUS TRACTS ARE INDICATED BY HEAVY BROKEN LINES.

Errata: Boundary street between Tracts 35-F, 35-G and 35-H is incorrectly labelled "Lawler St." It should be Tomlinson Ave., The index listing has been corrected on this point.

INDEX TO THE ALLOCATION OF CENSUS TRACTS IN WARDS THAT HAVE BEEN SUBDIVIDED OR CREATED SINCE 1930

Except as shown below, Philadelphia ward boundaries remain the same as in 1930 (when the census-tract system was adopted) and the number portion of the tract designation indicates the ward in which it is located (ie. Tract 7-A is in the 7th Ward, Tract 19-D is in the 19th Ward). However, where old wards have been subdivided and new wards created, the original tract boundaries and designations have not been changed and so do not correspond to new ward boundaries or numbers. The information given below will be useful in retabulating by wards the data that are published by census tracts or in comparing data that have been tabulated on these different bases.
